SURPRISED FRIENDS

Miss Rietta Squires Married At Covington To Mr. Ray Melrose.

Miss Rietta Squires, a former Maysville girl, and sister of Miss Ida Squires and a relative of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Archdeacon, all of this city, was quietly married in Covington Friday to Mr. Ray Melrose of Chicago.

The couple have been lovers for the past seven years. However, as the bride never intimated that an early marriage was probable, the announcement came as a big surprise to her friends. She has been employed at Connorsville, Ind., for several years in the millinery business.

They will reside in Chicago.

FALLING

RIVER REACHED CREST EARLY SUNDAY MORNING AND IS NOW STEADILY DROPPING BACK.

1915 Flood Causes Little Damage Here—Coal Coming.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather, a great many people were present yesterday at the M. E. church, South, for the three meetings held there. At the morning service, Miss Davies gave a very clear and practical presentation of the old, old question which has been upon the hearts of man from the days of Cain, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" With powerful earnestness this gifted speaker emphasized the truth that in the social life of today, each person must be his brother's keeper in spirit and in truth. She stressed the fact that from the Christian's viewpoint there was no such quality in the world today as "personal liberty," for every deed and word has a powerful and far-reaching influence over the lives of those in our family, church or community.

Quite an impressive service for young men was held at 3 o'clock, when Miss Davies, with the sympathy of a loving sister, brought them a message which had had untold influence on the lives of many other young men. Very reluctantly and sorrowfully did she present the topic of her evening service, that of "Sowing and Reaping." The assurance that "God is not mocked; whatsoever a man soweth, shall he also reap," was driven home to her hearers by emphatic truths from past ages, community life and the experience of the individual. What an awful picture of sin and its blight even to the third and fourth generation was she forced to portray? However, she closed by showing how the sowing and reaping of good were just as inevitable as that of evil, and that the great laws of God were deeply founded and not to be altered.

In his weekly report of Maysville's tobacco market, Supervisor Clift says:

We sold the past week, 2,224,460 pounds at an average of $8. High, $55, and any number over $40.

Good, sound tobacco is bringing good prices, being stronger than any time since the market opened.

Medium and cheap about the same.

The warehouses are all cleaned up, ready for the new week.

The river is now falling, and there is no danger. Our advice is to continue bringing in your tobacco as fast as ready.

GOING AFTER THE JITNEYS.

Plenty of people who lack the ability to see all sides to a proposition can be found to declaim the merits of the "jitney buses" which are competing with the street cars in not a few cities. In a period of general depression, when the average street car company is hard pressed to make both ends meet, the autobuses are cutting into revenues in anything but a pleasant manner. The auto bus has been one of the big thorns in the side of the municipally owned tramways of London, and given as the reason why the tramways were persistent money losers. The auto bus pays no special taxes or license fees, in most cases, and generally uses the tracks and pavements paid for by the street railway. The driver, often, is an independent operator content to earn a small margin over the cost of repairs and gasoline. He is able to take the cream of the business and leave the long hauls and the light-traffic routes to the railway company. Particularly on the Pacific coast has the "jitney bus" started to offer serious competition to the transportation lines, and the latter are complaining over the obvious unfairness involved.

California legislators have already discovered an annoying fly in the ointment, otherwise considered so pleasing to the people and so disconcerting to the "big corporations." It lies in the effect which the jitney competition is going to have on the taxes paid by the urban railroads. Senator Benedict of Los Angeles is reported as saying: "We have got to regulate the jitney buses some way. They are taking a vast amount of business away from the street car companies, which pay their taxes to the state on a basis of their gross earnings. It is reported that the state will lose $150,000 in taxes because of the loss of this business. And they must be regulated as to safety. In Los Angeles the jitneys have caused more accidents and killed more people than all the other automobiles put together."

Therefore, a bill has been introduced in the California Legislature declaring the auto buses to be common carriers and prescribing a tax upon them similar to that paid by the street railways.

"ONLY A DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION."

Food prices in England have gone up 20 per cent in the past few months, but they are not yet up to the food prices in this country. In England they blame it on the war, which is doubtless correct, but in this country we have no war—only a Democratic administration which promised to reduce the cost of living, and has failed because it didn't know what it was talking about.—Grafton (W. Va.) Daily Sentinel.

EDITORIAL BYPLAY.

There is no man in public life in Kentucky who could be as badly jarred as will be the Hon. A. O. Stanley when he knows that the press of the state is pretty much unanimous on the proposition that his attack on General Percy Haly and some others was in distressingly bad taste.

CHAPTER I.

The men were all lined up against the bar, the gleaming, seductive mahogany bar, across which the foam-lashed schooners moved without sail.

There were eight of them, the line terminating with Bubbles Tightly, who was nearest the door.

For the first round Alec Winkle paid. Barkeep Smokers set 'em up again. Then Winthrop Burgle paid.

Then Amos Smashberg paid.

Then Porbar Yanigan paid.

Then Si Hamgomer paid.

Then Yeecup Pinikers paid.

Then Landsturm Magee paid.

The seventh round was almost consumed. But a few dregs danced in the holds of the schooners. Very, very shortly Bubbles Tightly would have to come across.

"Just a moment, boys; I gotta phone," he excused himself.

He moved away slowly, away from the bar—toward the door.

Seven men dashed after him with clubs—and bricks.

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Maysville People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first;

But if you find 'tis from the kidneys;

That serious kidney troubles may follow;

That dropsy or Bright's disease may be the fatal end,

You will be glad to know the following experience,

'Tis the statement of a Maysville citizen,

Mrs. Della Lunsford, 328 E. Front St.,

Maysville, Ky., says: "I attributed kidney trouble to a strain. I had sharp, shooting pains through my kidneys and a dragging down feeling through my hips. I had dull headaches and dizzy spells and often if I had not caught hold of something for support, I would have fallen. I was in that condition for several years, up one week and in bed the next. I finally began to notice symptoms of dropsy and in a short time I was suffering from that trouble. My feet began to swell and my hands were at times the same way. At night I was restless and always felt tired. I read of a similar case being cured by Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a supply. Before long I was completely and permanently cured. Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life. I am glad to confirm my former endorsement of this remedy."

LOSING HOPE WOMAN VERY ILL

Finally Restored To Health
By Lydia E. Pinkham's

Belleview, Ohio.—"I was in a terrible state before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached until I thought it would break, I had pains all over me, nervous feelings and periodic troubles. I was very weak and run down and was losing hope of ever being well and strong. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. Would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. CHAS. CHAPMAN, R. F. D. No. 7, Belleview, Ohio.

Woman's Precious Gift.

The one which she should most zealously guard, is her health, but it is the one most often neglected, until some ailment peculiar to her sex has fastened itself upon her. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Your vote is kindly solicited.

THE BRIDGE CLUB.

There can not be much fun in it. They just sit there and sowl; when some one trumps her partner's ace there is an awful howl; they sit and nag and scold and scrap over every card that's played, and criticize each other's clothes; also the way they're made.

They sit and play four hours or more; no love shows in their eyes, they're fighting for a ten-cent dish, for that's the first big prize. Each one slams down her card quite hard enough to break her wrist. There's no love lost, I'll tell you that, when women folks play whist.

EIGHT HUNDRED PINTS

Of Whisky Found In Wagon When Negroes Are Arrested.

Morgantown, W. Va.—What is believed to be the most flagrant violation of the Yost prohibition law, which recently went into effect, was detected when Ed Harris and Bill Edwards, negroes, were caught with 800 pints of whisky, in as many bottles, in their possession.

The two men were hauling the whisky to Morgantown from a point in Marion, Penn., and were arrested on a public highway, after a merry chase of several miles.

The negroes said they had orders for every pint of liquor in the wagon.

NEW STEAMBOAT LINE

COSTLY BASEBALL WAR IN PROSPECT.

New York, February 8.—The year 1915 is to go down in history as the year of the great war. Compared with the great conflict that will be launched as soon as the weather conditions are favorable in the spring, and for which the hostile forces are now mustering their full strength, the warfare of 1914 will be remembered as but a preliminary skirmish. The enemy's threatened invasion of the east has aroused a new interest in the colossal struggle.

SENSE ABOUT FOOD.

Facts Worth Knowing.

It is a serious question sometimes to know just what to eat when a person's stomach is out of order and most foods cause trouble.

Grape-Nuts food can be taken at any time with the certainty that it will digest. Actual experience of people is valuable to any one interested.

A Terre Haute woman writes: I had suffered with indigestion for about four years, ever since an attack of typhoid fever, and at times could eat nothing but the very lightest food and then suffer so with my stomach I would wish I never had to eat anything.

"I was urged to try Grape-Nuts and since using it I do not have to starve myself any more, but I can eat it at any time and feel nourished and satisfied, dyspepsia is a thing of the past, and I am now strong and well.

"My husband also had an experience with Grape-Nuts. He was very weak and sickly one spring, and could not attend to his work. He was put under the doctor's care, but medicine did not seem to do him any good until he began to leave off ordinary food and use Grape-Nuts. It was surprising to see the change in him. He grew better right off, and naturally he has none but words of praise for Grape-Nuts.

"Our boy thinks he can not eat a meal without Grape-Nuts, and he learns so fast at school that his teacher comments on it. I am satisfied that it is because of the great nourishing elements in Grape-Nuts."

This mother is right. Grape-Nuts food is a certain and remarkable re-builder of body, nerves and brain.

"There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

IT PAYS BIG MONEY TO BE A MOVIE STAR.

Recently it was printed that Mary Pickford receives $200,000 a year with the Famous Players' Company. She really receives $2,000 a week for 52 weeks of the year. Miss Pickford is the highest priced film star in the United States, and with this exception, there is no film star in America who receives more than $750 a week as salary. Many of the film favorites receive from $300 to $600 a week.

John Bunny received $500 a week and a royalty on the films which brought his salary up to $700 weekly until he went into vaudeville. Stars like Carlyle Blackwell, Francis Bushman, Arthur Johnson, J. Warren Kerrigan and Maurice Costello receive from $200 to $400 weekly.

Sarah and Gaby.

The largest sum ever paid to a "legitimate" actress was given to Sarah Bernhardt when she posed in "Queen Elizabeth." She received $30,000 for about six weeks' work.

The next largest pay for a single picture was $15,000 and was paid to Gaby Deslys for the film, "Her Triumph."

The largest weekly salary ever given to a "legitimate" actress was paid to Pauline Fredericks. She received $2,000 a week and her expenses to and from Rome and in that city.

Marie Dressler received $10,000 and a contract calling for 50 per cent of the gross profits of a film.

THE HOBO.

The hobo was far and away the most interesting personality that came to town, and we should have gotten him to talk in public at 5 cents per head. He was a picturesque kind of a fellow, who very skillfully mixed fact and fantasy with the whole formed a kind of pattern that looked well enough if one didn't analyze. He was an Abisinnian and a direct descendant of King Solomon via the Queen of Sheba. He had been a lion tamer, a member of General Gordon's bodyguard, knew General Grant, and King Menelik, and Kitchener and Lord Roberts; he had been in the Egyptian war, the Boer war and the Zulu war. He had been in Persia, Egypt, Nova Scotia, the Klondike and Clermont county. And he was on his way to Arabia via Maysville, doubtless with a view to preparing for a journey across the dry and sandy deserts.—Jack Random, in Ripley Bee.

BETTER SCHOOLS FOR THE COUNTRY DISTRICTS.

Herbert Quick, editor of Farm and Home, the national farm paper published at Springfield, O., writes as follows in the current issue of this publication:

"Most of us who live in the country do not suspect it, but the country people will demand and build up elementary schools and high schools far better than the corresponding city schools—not in buildings perhaps, but in everything that truly educates or leads forth" the possibilities of the young.

"The new kind of rural school is coming. It will be so good a school that city people will flock to the country to give their children 'country chances.'"

HER ALIMONY EXPLAINED.

Miss Curley kept a private school, and one morning was interviewing a new pupil.

"What does your father do to earn his living?" the teacher asked the little girl.

"Please, ma'am," was the prompt reply, "he doesn't live with us. My mother supports me."

"Well, then," asked the teacher, "how does your mother earn her living?"

"Why," replied the little girl, in an artless manner, "she gets paid for staying away from father."—London Evening Standard.

EXPECT FARMERS TO BUY BUZZ BUGGIES.

Kansas City, Mo., February 8.—Kansas City automobile dealers expect to sell several thousand motor cars to as many prosperous farmers in Kansas and the southwest during the present week. It is the week of the local automobile show and reports from the rural sections indicate that there will be a big attendance. With pocketbooks bulging with the proceeds of wheat sales at $1.50 a bushel, the farmers are coming to the show prepared to buy any pleasure car that strikes their fancy, regardless of the cost.

I WAS RUN DOWN, NERVOUS AND WEAK

Cause? Chronic Cough—A Friend Advised Me to Take Vinol—I Did—It Made Me Well and Strong.

Jennings, La.—"I was run-down, nervous, weak, dizzy, and tired all the time as a result of a chronic cough which kept me awake nights for months. I have four in my family, and I was not able to do my usual housework. All the different medicines I had taken failed to do me any good until a friend told me about Vinol. I took it and within a month I was so well and strong I could do my own housework. I would advise all weak women to take Vinol."—Mrs. A. FREYOUN, Jennings, La.

Why will women in this vicinity continue to drag along day in and day out, all run-down, pale, thin, nervous, weak and all tired out when we are continually publishing letters from hundreds of reliable women which prove how Vinol overcomes such conditions and creates strength.

We ask every weak, nervous, run-down man or woman to come to our store and get a bottle of Vinol, our delicious cold liver and iron tonic, without oil, and if it fails to help you, we will return your money.

THE BACTERIOLOGY OF WOUNDS IN THE WAR.

The European war has developed hitherto unused and unexpected methods of warfare. It has also brought new problems in military surgery and new aspects of surgical bacteriology. The Journal of the American Medical Association has published foreign correspondence indicating the peculiar nature of some of the wounds encountered and referring to some of the characteristics of the wound infections and their consequences following the injuries received on the battlefields. The report of some of the bacteriologic investigations which have been conducted in the French hospitals serve to explain some of the consequences and to indicate the surgical procedures that may be called for in the management of the wounded on the French and Belgian frontiers. Metchnikoff states that wounds produced by bullets are frequently free from micro-organisms. The list of bacteria found in wounds derived in the military hospitals includes many forms of micro-organisms occasionally found in almost pure culture notably in penetrating wounds of the skull and in simple bullet wounds of limbs. Some are of only slight virulence, and erysipelas is reported in few instances. In most of the open wounds foreign substances such as shrapnel balls, fragments of shells and pieces of clothing are present. The germs of gangrene and tetanus are also found.

In Jennings, La.—"I was run-down, nervous, weak, dizzy, and tired all the time as a result of a chronic cough which kept me awake nights for months. I have four in my family, and I was not able to do my usual housework. All the different medicines I had taken failed to do me any good until a friend told me about Vinol.
